THE COMMUNITY

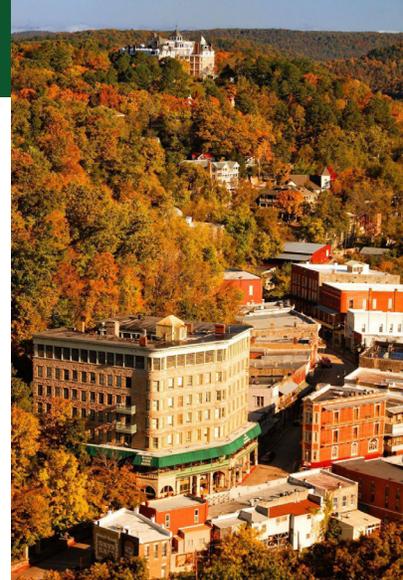

Holiday Island is Arkansas's Newest City! Holiday Island is a place where retirees, remote workers, and working families live and enjoy the benefits of living in the scenic Ozark Mountains. Holiday Island consists of 10 square miles of beautiful, mountainous terrain and is home to 2,600 residents. It is situated on the edge of Table Rock Lake, a 53,000-acre pristine lake with over 800 miles of shoreline. Many Holiday Island residents are retired; however, some are still in the workforce and commute to the nearby cities of Bentonville, Rogers, Springdale, Fayetteville, and Branson, Missouri.

The City started as a development on the beautiful Table Rock Lake. The Holiday Island Suburban Improvement District (HISID) was formed in 1970 by the Carroll County Court. The District was developed by the Holly Corporation in collaboration with McCulloch Corporation to provide water, sewer, waste management, and fire service to Holiday Island property owners, and to maintain roads and recreational facilities on Holiday Island. Tom Dees purchased the developer assets in 1990 and was instrumental in building major additions, like The Park commercial district and The Bluffs subdivision.

Holiday Island was incorporated as a City on Dec. 3, 2020. Three months later, the Secretary of State elevated it to a City of the 2nd Class. Newly elected City officials then began setting up the City government, establishing zoning and planning ordinances, and working toward establishing voting wards. Today, the City and District share the responsibility for providing services to the community. This partnership enables the City and the District to provide an economically sustainable way to maintain the infrastructure in Holiday Island, preserve the lifestyle that the original developers envisioned, and assure proper planning for development and growth.

Opportunities for recreation abound on Holiday Island. The City has a fully-equipped marina open to the public where you can rent kayaks, canoes, and large boats to accommodate the entire family. Holiday island residents and guests enjoy fishing, sailing, swimming, scuba diving, tubing, water skiing, and wakeboarding. Golfers enjoy an 18-hole course and a 9-hole executive course nestled in the beautiful, wooded hills and scenic valleys surrounding Table Rock Lake.

Other amenities include the country club, pickleball, tennis, hiking trails, a new recreation center, and a shopping center with over 40 businesses and services. Holiday Island also has an array of lodging options, from vacation home rentals to a campground with full water, sewer, and electric hookups.

GOVERNANCE AND ORGANIZATION

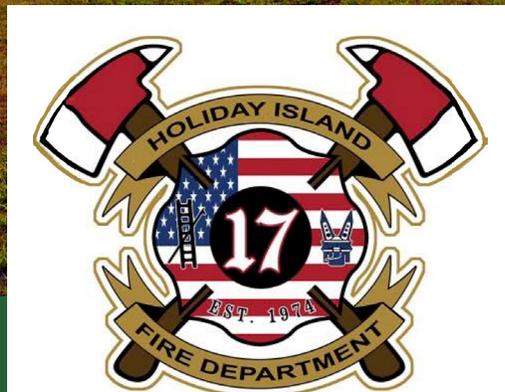

Holiday Island is both a City and a suburban improvement district. Responsibility for essential services and recreational amenities is divided between, and in some cases shared by, the City of Holiday Island and the Holiday Island Suburban Improvement District (HISID).

The HISID is governed by a Board of Commissioners. The Board hires a District Manager to manage all community operations, much like a City Council/City Manager form of local government. The current District Manager is an experienced Credentialed City Manager (ICMA-CM). He leads a team of experienced, dedicated Department Heads and together they work to maintain a culture of servant leadership, teamwork, and exceptional customer service.

Holiday Island is a full-service community providing water, sanitary sewer system, 70 miles of well-maintained roads, a fire department, police protection, a full-service marina, two golf courses, a recreation center, hiking trails, Country Club, restaurant, meeting rooms, and administrative services.

Holiday Island residents and property owners are the community's most valuable asset. Every employee represents HISID to property owners and the public, and property owners will judge all the departments by how they are treated by each employee contact. Holiday Island is committed to always being courteous, friendly, helpful, and prompt as they serve every property owner and guest.

The City has 60 employees and a total FY2022 budget of $5,000,000.
